Multipurpose Light Cruiser design from the 2190's. First class to use the then experimental FFTL-1B. Often used for colonial patrol and escort duties. The ship's standard armanent of four lasers, and a single torpedo tube could be augmented by a bolt on cannon or torpedo tube. The class adopted a defensive role after 2221, before final retirement in 2261. USS Damascus a participant in actions at Garner 441, Bisei-Shinnihon G, and Lisyk VIII, is on display at the Starfleet Museum.
